

Works Cited
(Samples)

Whitelock, Edward J. "Future Connected By." Literature and Ourselves: A Thematic Introduction for Readers and Writers. 6th ed. Eds. Gloria Mason Henderson, Anna Dunlap Higgins, Bill Day, and Sandra Stevenson Waller. New York: Longman, 2009. 140-142. Print.

Faulkner, William. "A Rose for Emily." Literature and Ourselves: A Thematic Introduction for Readers and Writers. 6th ed. Eds. Gloria Mason Henderson, Anna Dunlap Higgins, Bill Day, and Sandra Stevenson Waller. New York: Longman, 2009. 480-487. Print.

MLA bibliographic entries for a separate work published as part of a book may be formatted differently. The model above (p. 1156, Literature and Ourselves) is suggested by this professor for this class. Always follow the format suggested by your current professor. You will need a variety of formats for your library research paper on the author of your choice (Essay 2) and for your argument/persuasion essay (Essay 3). See pp. 39, 690, 835, 964, 1126, and 1155-1164 of Literature and Ourselves for other examples. The GSC library is always your best resource for questions relating to proper documentation.